Stake holders are also involved in conducting projects, so that social responsibility and mutual camaraderie is fostered.

Industry Alliance and Partnership

Partnering with industries prepares students for real time experience. Industry powered labs provide the technical acumen required to contribute to industry growth. Centres of Excellence initiate the necessary training to both faculty and students to achieve the dynamics and practices of the industry. IIPC oversees the execution of the above, through internships, inplant training programs industrial projects, consultancy, competency development and entrepreneurship skill development

International Professional Societies and Student Chapters

Professional societies and chapters help establish skills and extend numerous benefits like resource sharing, networking opportunities, mentorship to attend conferences, seminars, webinars, video conference, chapter meetings to stay in tune with industry needs. To capitalize on these opportunities, students associations and various programs organized, enrich students with the concepts and the strategies to pursue industry openings.

Allied Institutions Support

To be part of a vibrant conglomerate is a special privilege enjoyed by the institution. Be it conferences, workshops academic support, medical support, on call counselors, the benefits accrued by the stakeholders are numerous. Resource sharing, in terms of faculty expertise and infrastructure among the sister institutions are invaluable.

7.3 BEST PRACTICES

7.3.1 Elaborate on any two best practices as per the annexed format which have contributed to the achievement of the Institutional Objectives and/or contributed to the Quality improvement of the core activities of the college

BEST PRACTICE – I

1. Title of the Practice

Industrial Alliances and Partnerships through Industry Institute Partnership Cell (IIPC) and Centers of Excellence

2. Goal

The objectives in establishing the cell (IIPC) is to strengthen industry institution interaction so as to enable free consultation, technology up gradation, to orient staff and students to industry practices, trends, culture, with required skills and to assist in undertaking industry projects.

3. The Context

Normally the students admitted to the first year B.E courses are from various parts of the country with different social and academic back ground. A section of the students admitted to the course, might have completed their secondary education in their mother tongue (Tamil/Malayalam) as a medium of instruction and hence they may find the course as difficult to adapt to the English as medium of instruction. They may find it difficult to read, understand and deliver what they have learned. Most of the students are from rural back ground and they may also from economically weaker sections. Generally these students are having lack of awareness regarding their goal and the methods to achieve it. The students falling in these categories generally are lacking in their self confidence level. Few of the students are having attitude problems like negative thinking, lethargic towards working etc.

Industrial Projects

Students take up industrial projects for a semester during their final year of study. IIPC, with the support of the MoU partners and advisory board members, assist students in taking up projects in reputed industries in and out of the state

Inplant Training (Summer & Winter) Programmes

Inplant Training (Summer & Winter) is organized by IIPC for the benefit of engineering students. Over 300 students comprising all branches of engineering streams are benefitted by the training.

4. The Practice

The continuous assessment and monitoring the system of teaching and learning process helps the faculty members in recording the academic progress of each and every student. A multi-pronged strategy is required to address these problems. First of all, academically poor performing students are identified by a well-defined evaluation system, formulated by the examination cell through unit tests. To overcome the difficulties faced due to the medium of instruction, a well-planned and well spanned communication skill development program is provided with the help of external trainers in the first four semesters for all the students. A continual assessment and monitoring system is followed to solve problems like confidence level, awareness issues and attitude problems.

In practice, each faculty member is allotted with 15-20 students and is acting as Tutor for those students. Tutor act like a local guardian and interact very closely with the students with the parental approach. They try to understand the academic and personal problems of their ward. Since the students attending the classes regularly will help them to understand the subject, it is monitored on hourly basis by the tutor. Any discrepancies in this regard are addressed by counseling and involving the parents.

Tutor help them in their learning process by checking their class notes and recommending materials and books to be followed and also suggest methods in reading and understanding concepts of the subject. During unit tests, the tutor visits the examination hall and observes their approach and presentation. Tutor discusses the corrected answer sheets with their wards pointing out the areas to be improved and also suggests how to be prepared for examinations.

To help them, remedial measures like extra class, hourly test and assignments are provided and monitored. In addition, they are supplied with university question papers and question banks. Regular counseling and motivation by the tutor helps him solving attitude problems. Apart from this, motivation classes and counseling by a professional counselor are conducted.

5. Evidence of Success

The practice of continuous assessment and monitoring the academic performance of the students and other is followed by tutor ward system effectively. The evidence of success is observed through the following points.

- Considerable improvement in attendance percentage.
- Visible improvement in consecutive test results.
- Better approach and presentation by the students in exams.
- Better performance in university examination.
- Positive behavior of the students is visible through improved participation in various activities like organizing and participation in paper presentations, seminars, conferences, symposiums etc.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Even though the continuous assessment and monitoring of students performance has been proved to be the best practices, the system has faced certain problems initially as like other practices.

- Initial resistance from the students to undergo such process due to lack of awareness
- Finding time to carry out this activity in the regular academic schedule.
- Transportation problems for the faculty and day scholar students
- The above problems were overcome by the management by adopting various measures like counseling the students and making them understand the importance of process after the class hours remedial classes are conducted.
- Providing free transport to faculty and day scholars who stay back after college working hours.

BEST PRACTICE – II

1. Title of the Practice

INSTITUTIONAL AUTOMATION SYSTEM (SSEC)

2. Goal

- To introduce automation in the administrative (student, staff and Library administrative system) and the academic activities of the college (class room delivery, syllabus completion etc).
- To reduce the paper works.
- To increase data integrity, validity and reliability.
- To assure system wide security and protection of confidential information.
- To support sophisticated data analyses for use in decision-making

3. The Context

Our Institution is having around 200 teaching and non-teaching staff members and about 1000 students (both UG and PG). So, monitoring the attendance of the staff members and students are really a tedious job. Timely availability of academic related data to the faculty members and students is prime need of the Institution. Planning and monitoring of the delivery system is must for better learning process. Collecting the data about the internal assessment is necessary for analysis and formulating methods for improvement.

4. The Practice

The Institutional automation system has been designated with the objective of storing and providing all the necessary information based on the requirements of the management, principal, HoDs, class Advisors, Tutors, Students and Parents. A separate dedicated team of staff members are working for the automation related activities.

The important features of the system is
